heaven in ordinary is like a love affair with poetry that engages with religious questions for good or ill concerned with five poets who are haunted by god poets in times of great faith and times of doubt have expressed for us their sense of both the presence and the absence of god in language that is sometimes almost sacramental in its weight of beauty love fear anger or despair the poets considered here all relate in some way to the traditions of anglicanism through the centuries reflecting both a common humanity and a wide breadth of human experience as it struggles with god heaven in ordinary is deliberately autobiographical in approach as it is grounded in david jasper s own lifetime experience of reading poetry since his school years and over four decades as a priest the poets he so beautifully discusses have related both positively and negatively to the christian faith and the anglican tradition some are deeply religious others are haunted by god and the divine mystery
